

Martine Donaldson

Senior Director of Global Benefits & Compensation

Kaseya

Miami, Florida

Martine Donaldson is the senior director of global benefits & compensation at Kaseya, a global leader in IT management solutions. With over two decades of experience in human resources and benefits strategy, Martine specializes in designing and implementing employee programs that align with organizational goals and foster a culture of well-being. At Kaseya, she has been pivotal in creating innovative, competitive benefits packages that support the company's diverse, global workforce. Martine is passionate about leveraging technology and data-driven insights to enhance health benefits navigation and improve employee satisfaction, making her a dynamic advocate for transforming the employee benefits landscape.